

Two parent workshops in Teddington and Twickenham

Parenting in the pre-teen years

This entertaining 2 hour workshop will help parents understand some of the issues they may face and how they can lay down good solid foundations now to help keep the lines of communication open for the future.

Wednesday 2nd December 2015
Teddington

For more information and booking click here

Gill Hines is a freelance Education and Parenting consultant and author known for her entertaining and straightforward style.

www.gillhines.co.uk

Top Tips for supporting kids through parental break up

Helping them to grieve, helping them to understand and minimising harm are all covered in this two hour workshop designed to make one part of splitting up easier to manage.

Thursday 10th December 2015
Twickenham

For more information and
booking click here

What parents have said about Gill's workshops

"I couldn't believe it was 2 hours- time flew. More please."

"I feel I have learnt a lot and been reassured about a lot of things I am already doing."

"Wish I'd known this when my eldest was younger. Brilliant."