WRITING – Non-Fiction – Lesson 4 of 5 (Thursday)

This week we are going to be looking at non-fiction writing. We have completed this before with fact files about the Stone Age, The River Thames and last year in Elephants with our 'Miptor' writing.

Weekly Overview:

Lesson 1 - Finding out about non-fiction features

Lesson 2 - Spotting non-fiction features

Lesson 3 - All about me - Planning non-fiction report about yourself

Lesson 4 - All about me - Writing your non-fiction report about yourself

Lesson 5 - Editing & Finishing off Geography 'The River Nile' fact file

Lesson 4 - LO: To write a biography (non-fiction report).

1) A biography should be written in THIRD PERSON - do you know what third person is? Watch this video and my video on SeeSaw to help you…

2) Look at my biography again - Can you spot my use of THIRD PERSON?

3) Take a double page in your book (so you have space). After writing the date and LO in your book, think about how you would like your biography to look. I have included a template if you need help.

4) Now use full sentences in THIRD person to write the biography, remember to upload a picture this to SeeSaw once it's done.

Optional: Share your plan with a friend via picture message/email do they can find out all about you - ask a grownup first!

NOTE! Normally when you write about yourself it is called an AUTO-BIOGRAPHY and you write in first person but we are practising biographies and third person this week.
