

Free Activity at Orleans House Gallery

Date: Saturday 8 and Sunday 9 June 2019

Time: 10am - 4.30pm each day

Cost: FREE, drop-in activity in the grounds of Orleans House Gallery for all.

Visitors will listen, imagine and make, inspired by the planet Neptune and past Richmond residents, Alexander Pope and Gustav Holst.

Participants are invited to become 'New Neptunists' and to enter an imaginative space where they become future astro-geologists searching for rare and beautiful rocks in the seas of Neptune itself. Following this imaginative journey, they are invited to take part in a craft session which relate back to the experience.

Play Streets applications now open

Richmond Council are thrilled to announce that Play Streets are back for 2019.

Families in Richmond are invited to come out and play as part of National Car Free Day on Sunday 22 September.

Last year there were over 30 streets across the borough, crowning Richmond with the highest number of Play Streets in London! Applications are now open to host a Play Street, where the Council will be waiving the costs of road closures and offering a number of £250 grants to help neighbours plan fun activities for their streets.

Applications close Friday 23 August 2019.
